CITY OF TORONTO 3RS AMBASSADOR PROGRAM

City of Toronto invites community environmental champions to participate in the 3Rs Ambassador program. This program engages volunteers in multi-residential buildings that receive City collection and empowers them to educate other residents by disseminating information on City's collection program, with the ultimate goal of reducing contamination and increasing waste diversion. Although the program places emphasis on buildings, it would be good to have 3R ambassadors in every community. If you or someone you know would like to be a part of this program, please see the attached poster for contact information.
